NSEA APPLAUDS APPOINTMENT OF JHONE EBERT

Looks Forward to Working Closely with New Superintendent to Improve Public Education

(Carson City, NV)—March 25, 2019. Today Governor Sisolak appointed Jhone Ebert as Nevada Superintendent of Public Instruction.

“The Nevada State Education Association applauds Governor Sisolak for his appointment of Jhone Ebert as Superintendent of Public Instruction,” said Ruben Murillo, President of the Nevada State Education Association. “With extensive experience, including in the classroom as a math teacher, Jhone truly understands the challenges educators face every day. Growing up, Jhone had to access many school-based services. Her background and experience make her passionate about equity and closing the opportunity gap. NSEA looks forward to working with Superintendent Ebert to strengthen the Department of Education to make sure every Nevada student has access to a quality public education.”
